

PALAPA

MAKE-UP ARTIST

BIOGRAPHY

A picture conveys more than a thousand words. Just look at the website www.palapa.eu to see how much beautiful and creative work the make-up artist Palapa has already done. Now 32 years old, from an early age interested in fashion and beauty, his roots in Indonesia, where he has worked for the local editions of Harper's Bazaar and Cosmopolitan magazine and where he took care of the make-up for the performances of the famous singer Ruth Sahanaya. First studied to become a fashion designer, later as autodidact he learned make-up, inspired by Kevyn Aucoin.

Only five years in The Netherlands and he has already an impressive list of clients. Palapa is always abreast of the latest trends, but gets inspiration just as easily from other cultures or times past, from classic or romantic to extravagant. Maybe his creativity catches the eye, but Palapa is above all professional, with good planning and timely preparation as well as in the ultimate result. He can accomplish perfect make-up and hairstyling even if, pressed by time, he needs to work fast. He works well alone, but also clearly demonstrates his talent in a team or as the head of a group of make-up artists.

As a talented professional he enjoys working with others and wants to further develop his talents to become successful in the wider Europe.

Who has experienced his make-up once, always likes to return.

Real beauty is timeless - Palapa

Clients: Ronald Kolk, Pierre Gauthier, House of the Stars, Marcel Wanders for Bijenkorf, Blue Moon Productions, Royal Ballet of Flanders, Sony Music, GMG Music, Waternet, Tudor Liron, SNAP!, Liesbeth List, Ruth Sahanaya, Shu Uemura Magna Plaza

Editorial: Harper's Bazaar Magazine, Cosmopolitan Magazine, Foto Media Magazine, Red Magazine, Sen Magazine

Photographers: Edland Man, Wilberto van den Boogaard, Henk Bleeker, Fariet Tunc, Jan Scholten, Peter Bottema, Michael Loos (Buro 010), Iman

Education: Dik Peeters (Hair & Make-up School), House of Orange (Make-up School)

Picture: Jan Scholten